STAY POSITIVE

Mindsets establish your approach to working on the things you would like to achieve.

- Do you jump right in?
- Do you prefer to spend time thinking about your response or actions?
- Are you someone who puts things off to the last possible minute?

Reflect On a piece of paper, write a response to each of the questions below. They could also be an

CURIOSITY AND INTEREST

People who are curious like to connect something they know with something they don't know...like what's going to happen next in a book you're reading, or how to solve a problem in a game. When we are learning things like chemistry, our brain sticks together the bits we understand with the bits we don't understand yet.

If we use our curiosity and think "what if...?" or "I wonder...?", learning can be more engaging.

Curiosity can be exciting and can motivate us to find out more about something. It's also what helps us find things that really interest us.

What are you curious about or excited to try?

Finish this sentence:

I wonder why.....

How could you find out more about it?

Sometimes when people feel insufficient, or like they are not good enough, they can become defensive. This can cause them to act in a way that prevents other people from getting close to them.

- What aspects of the main character's behaviour demonstrates this?.
- Connecting with someone (or something!) else can help. Small acts of kindness can be very powerful in showing people they are good enough, just the way they are.
- What small acts of kindness do you already perform, to connect with other people?.
- Write one new kind idea below, to help connect with
